WEDNESDAY EVENING OCT. 16, 1917.

COL. SLEMP'S SEAT.

Henry C. Slemp, member of the Corporation Commission, says he will not be a candidate for Congress to succeed Campbell Slemp, who died Sunday. Mr. Slemp, who was announced as a candidate for governor, saying at the same time that he would not in any way begin his campaign till he had concluded his term as a member of the commission. He said the same thing yesterday, and will stand by that declaration. He would not in the least object to going to Congress, but there is every reason to believe that he will not have the time to make a campaign, for the Governor will, in all probability, order an extra election at an early date for the filling of the vacancy. He has not yet been officially informed of the death, and it is possible that an election may be held prior to the convening of Congress, in December.

The democrats are hopeful of carrying the district, but that the State has been dead, and there is another good reason to be found for this belief in the fact that there are several republicans who have been priming themselves for a "go" at Colonel Slemp.

L. P. Sammers, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Western district of Virginia, is reported as expected to succeed Congressman Slemp. Sammers Slemp, son of the late Congressman, and J. H. Noel are also mentioned as republican aspirants for this office.

MISS MALONEY'S FLIGHT.

Members of the family of Miss Helen Maloney, who eloped with Samuel Clarkson, an Englishman, say that when she left the parental roof she took $70,000 in jewelry and negotiable paper with her.

It is stated in London that Samuel Clarkson figured in 1905 in a case in which he sued Drucker & Morris, stock brokers, in connection with stock exchange transactions that had resulted in a loss of $165,000.

W. M. Armstrong, of Pittsburg, a Princeton graduate and close college companion of Arthur Herbert Osborne, of New York, said yesterday in Munkgo, Ind., that Osborne and Miss Helen Eugene Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, were married December 28, 1905. In a notary's office at Manhattan, N. Y., going there from Miss Maloney's home, at Spring Lake, N. J., Armstrong says that he obtained the license and that Osborne gave his name as Herbert Osborne, while Miss Maloney gave her name as Helen Eugene. They gave their marriage a secret, Armstrong says, on account of their differences of religion and the probable opposition of Miss Maloney's parents to a marriage not consecrated in the Roman church.

BALLOON TRAVELS THIRTY MILES AN HOUR.

After traveling through the air a distance of almost 100 miles in three hours and ten minutes, J. C. McCoy and Capt. C. de F. Chandler brought the balloon Psyche down to earth three miles north of Jacksonville, Ill., yesterday afternoon, ending the first trial trip taken by the aeronauts, who are to contest in the international races, to be held in St. Louis October 21.

The route of the balloon was almost directly north of St. Louis, and Mr. McCoy, who is to pilot the America in the coming races, expressed himself as well pleased with the performance of the Psyche and with the prospects of a long trip in the America, which is more than twice the size of the balloon used yesterday.

Toward the end of the journey yesterday the balloon passed through a rainstorm for almost an hour, but a few minutes in the sun dried it to a covey, and the Psyche afterward rose to a height of a mile. The landing was made in a cornfield and no damage was done to the balloon.

Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express.

Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of their troubles, the weakened womanly organs.
